

Aims and Objectives

- To provide necessary forum for scientists and engineers of various specializations to come together and exchange on problems of earthquake technology.
- To disseminate knowledge in field of earthquake technology dealing with seismological and engineering aspects.
- To promote research and development work in the field of earthquake technology.